Civics is the Topic at Community Club Meeting

Eastern Problem Taken Up in Current Events Class

Civics and the Ship Subsidy Bill were the subjects under discussion at the Community Club meeting last Tuesday.

Miss Eleanor Goepp, a member of the Civic Club of Philadelphia, spoke of the work that that club is doing to improve civic conditions. "Sanitation through ventilation" was one objective with only four states having any laws on ventilation. Health conditions for women workers, Mothers' Pensions and the noise and smoke nuisance were other necessary improvements to be looked after, and the large ugly advertising signs to be removed from the landscape.

Mrs. S. Z. Shope read a paper on the Ship Subsidy Bill which is now before the special session of Congress.

A trio consisting of Mrs. John R. Strain, Mrs. F. A. Guinivan and Mrs. J. H. Nash sang.

CURRENT EVENTS CLASS

Mrs. George Bean, well known current events lecturer, gave an illuminating talk on the near East situation before the Current Events section of the Community Club on Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. Jacobs. Twenty-seven members were present.

Tracing the Turkish situation before the World War, Mrs. Bean led her audience through the long series of wars and diplomatic struggles for the possession of Constantinople from 1453, when the Turks first captured that city, until the present time. During this long period, Mrs. Bean explained, the situation was complicated by the intense hatred between the Moslems and the Christians.

"The great European nations and particularly Great Britain, had been able to dominate Turkey," Mrs. Bean said, "because it was a beaten Turkey with whom they were dealing. Now a completely victorious Turkey must be diplomatically persuaded rather than commanded."

Before the war, Great Britain maintained friendly relations with Turkey because it was necessary for her to keep a free passage through the Suez Canal to her possessions in the East. Then upon Turkey's entrance into the war as a German ally, Greece was backed by the Entente to keep the freedom of the Straits. At the Peace Conference in 1919 there were so many weighty problems to be discussed that the Turkish situation was held in abeyance. Constantine deposed, Venizelos had a vision of a larger Greece and per-

There were 3,662 residents, according to our 1920 census, absent from the November Home and School meeting, held in our High School Auditorium on Friday evening, the twenty-fourth. That means that only 42 persons, by their attendance, showed their interest in our Public Schools; and mind you, this was a "Public Reception" to our teaching force, and by the way, there were "cuts" for all. That's off our mind,—now we will tell you about the family gathering, for that is exactly what the meeting turned out to be. After Miss Evelyn Patten and Miss Marie Miesen had given us the Grand Opera portion of the programme, our President turned us loose. About everybody present had something to say, either on Parental Visits to the Schools, or on the School's Hygiene Program, or on the Lower Merion Project,—I say everybody talked but the "Pro Tem Sec.," and he was so busy taking notes that he forgot to tell the President his name, this being necessary, as the aforesaid Sec. has only been on his (The President's) calling list for the past six years. Oh! Yes! We're going to pay for milk for the Kiddies; therefore Jess Harris has to have more money, so all you aforesaid 3,662 absentees come across. There will be no December meeting, seeing as how we will all be busy hunting up our biggest socks for Santa Claus, but watch for our "newspaper's" announcement the middle of January—the meeting will probably be the fourth Thursday. That's all. I hope the Editor is too busy to censor this; if he does I know he will give it to a good newspaperman like Eddie Muschamp to rewrite.

A PROMINENT GUEST

Mr. Jarvis Wood, of the N. W. Ayer Advertising firm, will be the guest of the Women's Auxiliary of the Narberth Presbyterian Church, Thursday evening, Dec. 7th. On that date he will be the honor guest at the dinner, which the women will serve, with their husbands as guests.

At eight o'clock Mr. Jarvis will speak on "The Romance of Advertising," in the church proper. Every one is most cordially invited to come and hear this brilliant man speak on a subject that interests every one in this day and age.

A very famous male quartet will appear for the first time in Narberth, or in fact, it will be the first appearance of this famous four in this part of the country.

Mrs. Trotter—who is always a treat—has graciously consented to sing. Every body come and enjoy a thoroughly pleasant evening with the Presbyterians Dec. 7th, Thursday, at eight o'clock.

INTERCHURCH BOWLING LEAGUE FORMED.

The recent bowling contests between the Presbyterians and the Methodists have aroused the Baptists and the Lutherans, and they have organized strong teams to represent them. At a meeting of representatives from the various churches it was decided to form a league and a schedule was drawn up. Park's alleys in the Y. M. C. A. basement, which have just undergone an extensive overhauling, have been engaged for every Friday night.

The schedule is as follows:

First Half.

Dec. 1—Presbyterians vs. Methodists.
Dec. 8—Baptists vs. Lutherans.
Dec. 15—Presbyterians vs. Baptists.
Dec. 22—Methodists vs. Lutherans.
Dec. 29—Presbyterians vs. Lutherans.
Jan. 5—Methodists vs. Baptists.

Second Half.

Jan. 12—Presbyterians vs. Methodists.
Jan. 19—Baptists vs. Lutherans.
Jan. 26—Presbyterians vs. Baptists.
Feb. 2—Methodists vs. Lutherans.
Feb. 9—Presbyterians vs. Lutherans.
Feb. 16—Methodists vs. Baptists.
Feb. 23—Play off between winners of the two halves.

RADIO ON WHEELS

Albert W. Ward, Jr., our local radio expert, has been utilizing an interesting way of displaying his wares. A few weeks ago, the editor, in the course of a casual conversation with Mr. Ward, remarked that he wished to hear the Wanamaker concert the following night. He was promptly invited to come up to Mr. Ward's headquarters and "listen in."

Unfortunately we were unable to do so, and, on telephoning our house and learning we were over in the center of the town somewhere, the obliging radio enthusiast loaned a complete outfit in the rear of Cook Brothers' truck, and proceeded to find us. We heard him coming a block away, and had the pleasure of standing on a street corner and listening to the ringing tones of some ambitious baritone.

Mr. Ward has had his outfits on exhibition in this manner quite frequently in the past few weeks. Some evening, when returning from the city, if you should hear the sounds like a phonograph while leaving Merion station, you will know that Mr. Ward is established somewhere on Haverford avenue with a specially strong amplification hooked up. On Thursday a large crowd gathered in front of Davis' to hear the returns of the Penn-Cornell game over one of the machines.

The fact that the first wireless telephone in America was located in Narberth, over twenty years ago, will be of interest to many of our readers. Facts about the story of its invention, the experimental tripods on the old baseball field at Narberth and Price avenues, and other interesting bits of information are being gathered, and some day, when we have the time to get the story together, we shall publish the facts of an incident of which every resident of Narberth may well be proud.

The monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Narberth Tennis Association will be held Friday, Dec. 8, at 3 P. M., at the home of Mrs. W. W. Evans, 125 Chestnut Avenue.

Mrs. Wilmer Crowell spent the week-end in Easton, where Mr. Crowell refereed the Lafayette-Lehigh game.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Peeney are spending Thanksgiving in Baltimore.

Haverford Avenue Altering Rapidly

New Construction is Improving Section

Haverford avenue has recently seen a number of changes and improvements, and new and projected operations will still further build up Narberth's business section.

A very attractive and practical change has been made in the store property of Howard E. Davis. Mr. Davis formerly occupied two adjacent shallow stores. In the past few weeks, he has had the stores deepened considerably, and made into two separate shops. While the western half was being fitted out, the Davis business was carried on in the other half, formerly the candy store. Now the shop is located in the western half, which has been newly fitted out, and forms a distinct improvement to our business section.

The other store is being completed, and will be rented at some future date. The apartment overhead has been enlarged, and an outside stairway added. The work was done by Fred C. Mohr, of Narberth.

Many residents have been noting with interest the brick structure rapidly nearing completion in the rear of the Main Line Drug Stores. The building is being put up by J. P. White, owner of White's Sweet Shop, and will be operated as a first-class bakery for his growing business. Mr. White has purchased the entire half of the building occupied by the Drug Store, and plans, when the other work is completed, to build an apartment on the second floor, and later to extend the store portion all the way out to the corner.

The large building being erected on Narberth avenue, back of the yard of the Narberth Coal and Building Material Company is to become a large public garage. The structure is to consist of two floors, one having entrance from Haverford Avenue, the other from Narberth avenue. The building operation is being done under direction of J. P. Cook, owner of the property. No date of probable completion has been announced.

An improvement in that section of our business block, made some weeks ago, was that of a new, illuminated sign on the corner of Narberth and Haverford avenues, over the entrance of the office of the Narberth Coal and Building Material Company. This addition, added to the lighted display window has done much to brighten up what was formerly a rather dark corner, and forms another of the series of improvements Mr. Dunne has made on that property.

An improvement not so evident from the street was made some time ago in Ricklin's Hardware Store. Mr. Ricklin enlarged his shop by converting part of the living quarters in the rear, and refitting the entire store. The added space is used for the display and storage of the paint stock. On the second floor of this building, one of the rooms formerly occupied by Mr. John A. Caldwell, has been refitted and is being occupied by the Narberth Boot Shop, recently opened by Mrs. R. L. Caccia.

It is also rumored that several new stores are to be erected in the vicinity of Narberth and Haverford avenues. The changes already made have altered materially the appearance of our business block. The section offers a really startling contrast to its appearance less than ten years ago, which many residents can recall. The new stores, the changed fronts, the enlargements and refittings, coupled with the modern paving laid by the Borough on Haverford avenue, have metamorphosed the section from what appeared to be the Main Street of a sleepy country town to a bustling, efficient and attractive business section which merits all the support and friendly help the people of Narberth can offer.

Four Local Representatives at Harrisburg

December 18th Probable Date of Event

Four delegates from Narberth attended the Convention of the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters last week. Mrs. Carroll Downes, Mrs. Edward S. Haws, Mrs. William Bailey Goodall and Miss Anna MacKeg listened to the debate on the Fordney-McCumber Tariff Bill. The delegates heard Hon. Fred A. Wallis, United States Commissioner of Immigration, discuss this great problem. They were deeply interested in Law Enforcement as presented by Hon. T. Henry Walnut, Hon. George I. Winer and Mrs. Ella M. George. They also discussed the Narberth School question with Dr. Fenner and were entertained at luncheon by Mr. D. K. Connelley, Commissioner of Labor and Industry, who has consented to come to Narberth and speak to the League of Women Voters on some vital questions. The four women were guests at the Governors' reception, and attended the dinner at which Governor Sproul, Governor-elect and Mrs. Pinchot, and Dr. Marion E. Park, of Bryn Mawr College, made addresses.

The delegates returned full of enthusiasm for the wonderful work that the league is doing all over the State, and with a determination to have the Narberth League include every woman in the borough.

THANKSGIVING PLAY.

Last Wednesday morning a Thanksgiving fantasy was played by the pupils of the Eighth Grade.

Two students, a boy and girl, having eaten too much Thanksgiving dinner, have a night mare. After their mother had put them to bed and gone out, Indigestion comes in and torments them with pumpkin pie, mince pie, bananas, and cranberry sauce all mixed together. When they went out, in came a band of Pilgrims, including Miles Standish, John Alden and Pricilla, who acted their love scene. While the Pilgrims were still present, Andy Gump, the candidate for Congress, and a Flapper came in and mortified the Pilgrims. Then a crowd of Indians made their appearance in a war dance, which caused the exit of Andy Gump and the Flapper, followed by the Pilgrims and Indians. Then Indigestion called in a turkey, who also tortured the children and left them lying on the floor. When they awakened each swore never again to stuff themselves on Thanksgiving. Just as they crawled into bed again an Indian chased the turkey across the room with a hatchet.

R. C. S., Jr., School Reporter.

In place of the formal prepared program which the Choral Society had planned to present in Narberth during December, it now proposes to invite all of Narberth to join in a Community Sing. Everybody knows the old familiar Christmas Carols and everybody likes to sing them. The Choral Society believes that if the opportunity is given, the people will gladly join with it for one night,—not to hear the Choral nor to listen to some nationally famous artist, but merely to sing for the pleasure each one will have in the singing. Good voice, poor voice, any voice at all, we all sing when the music is familiar and what more familiar tunes than the Christmas songs!

Community singing as a means of drawing the people together and of developing a spirit of real democracy has been proven so many times as to need no argument. Narberth has enjoyed for several years the Carol singing of various groups on Christmas Eve, and this Community Sing is in no way to replace that beautiful custom, but rather to enlarge and intensify it. We can all join together on one night, be our own Carol Singers and just sing.

In all probability the Sing will be held indoors, the High School Auditorium, if it is available, the Choral Society will simply be the nucleus of the gathering and will arrange for the music and accompaniment. An effort will be made to obtain the co-operation of other organizations in Narberth to make this a real Community affair.

The probable date of the Sing has been fixed for Monday evening, the eighteenth of December, just one week before Christmas, and it is hoped that this event will be the opening chord of a Christmas season which Narberth will enjoy and long remember.

In view of the greater interest apparent in the Community Christmas Singing, the Choral Society concert originally scheduled for the middle of December, has been postponed until after the holidays and will probably be given about the middle of January. It is considered that the opportunities connected with organizing and arranging for the Community event are so large from the standpoint of the organization in its relation to Narberth, that the members and friends of the Society will not mind waiting a few weeks longer for the rendition of its regular concert.

The one big thing to keep in mind in connection with the proposed plan is that it will be a Narberth Community Sing, and every one can feel that he or she is particularly invited to take a part. The songs will be those we all know, and every one who has a favorite Christmas Carol is requested to suggest it to the Editor of "Our Town" and it will be included in the list. It makes no difference whether it be old or new, provided it is familiar. Think over your favorites and make sure none are omitted. Here then is an opportunity for every one in Narberth to try his hand in a line of entertainment which is mighty well worth while and which will cost nothing, which will give individual pleasure and develop that feeling of Community loyalty which every growing town needs, and which will open up the Christmas season with the spirit of praise and joy only to be inspired when we just stand and sing.

Mrs. N. B. Rainey is spending the week-end in Lancaster.

NO TARGET DESIGNATED

In last week's issue of "Our Town" we published an article by Burgess Carl B. Metzger explaining the new Borough restrictions on parking. In the same issue, we printed an editorial taking to task the unsigned-letter pest, and reproduced a recent example of this nuisance.

It so happened that one resident was of the idea that the article by Mr. Metzger had some footing in the unsigned postal card. The card was from someone who, hiding under the cover of anonymity, attempted to make it unpleasant for an autoist, evidently a neighbor.

The ruling by the Borough officials came after a consideration of some months of careful study of the situation, during which time an enabling ordinance was passed by Council, and arrangements made with the Lower Merion police force to enforce the ruling.

The resident who approached Mr. Metzger, feeling that the article was aimed at him, was only one of literally dozens who have been patronizing the "Narberth Highway Gutter Garage." The statement by our Burgess was aimed at no particular individual, but at the entire dangerous practice. The particular man who was "caught" by the ruling is known as a loyal and patriotic resident of Narberth, and was largely compelled by circumstances to transgress parking rights.

The purpose of the ordinance, followed by the police ruling is three-fold. First, to discourage theft of cars in Narberth. Second, to prevent petty thievery, and third, to avoid possible serious accidents by the presence of numbers of unlighted cars on the streets, or by the obstructing of the gutters through all-night parking.

A noticeable relieving of the situation has already taken place, and the authorities are in hopes that a spirit of co-operation by the residents will make sterner action unnecessary.

AN EXCELLENT PLAN

The announcement by the Narberth Choral Society of their plan to foster community singing is something which should be responded to with interest by every resident of Narberth. Especially during the approaching Christmas season will such a plan find warm support among the people of the community.

There has been a noticeable falling-off of community spirit this fall, in contrast to the many, bound-together activities of a year ago. Many things have contributed to this condition, most conspicuous being the half-dormant condition of several of our organizations which were actively functioning last year.

Perhaps this lapse in our activities of late may be traced to a reaction from the vigor of last year's events; perhaps it is but a reflection of the non-progressive spirit which ever and anon crops up in our fair village—as in all towns. There have certainly been fewer dances, plays, concerts, etc., this season.

But whatever may be the cause, or whatever is the condition which obtains among our different local bodies, the community sing of the Choral Society offers a splendid opportunity to start the ball rolling, and in the right direction.

Every resident should not only save the date of Monday, December 18th, for this affair, but should do all in his power to lend spirit to this and other such enterprises.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Last week, when we found ourselves reduced to four Fireside Items, we cried out in grief on the front page, and asked our readers to join in the good work, as in the days of yore, and supply "Our Town" with a substantial and interesting column.

The response to our request has been exceedingly gratifying, and practical assistance has poured in from all quarters. In such matters we are handicapped, for, as most of our readers know, "Our Town" is essentially a co-operative enterprise, and does not possess facilities for the gathering of extensive social news. A commercially operated paper has an office with an attendant in charge, who has constant and immediate access to a telephone to receive items over the wire, and to keep in touch with events at all times.

"Our Town," on the other hand, must depend on mailed-in matter, for our office is simply a desk in the Editor's bedroom, and his office hours occur at times when normal people are asleep. So, as you can see, we are at the mercy of our friends in matters which are not covered by our corps of cooperating representatives. We are exceedingly pleased at the response this week to our request for help with the Fireside, and hope that the good work will continue. Remember, a postal will do, and one item is welcome, or all available news of your neighborhood. Keep us posted.

REFORESTATION

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 15.—Applications for trees for the spring planting season now coming into the Department of Forestry indicate that the movement for the reforestation of waste and denuded lands in Pennsylvania is growing steadily.

Each succeeding year it is brought home to the people of the State, as well as all the country at large, with a feeling force that the only hope of a timber supply in the future lies in new forests, produced either artificially or naturally.

In order to make forests more attractive as an investment, the State is spending large sums to protect them from fire, and today its system of forest fire protection has been pronounced by the U. S. Forest Service to be the best among the States.

To date the number of applications for young forest trees is far more than for the corresponding period last year. Land owners in all parts of the State have applied for trees in large quantities; the entire supply, about 1,000,000 trees, of white pine, Norway spruce, Japanese red pine, European larch, red oak, catalpa and black walnut has been allotted.

The Department of Forestry has, however, about 3,000,000 young trees of the following kinds available: pitch pine, Scotch pine, Japanese black pine, white ash, green ash, rock oak and American elm.

These trees are from five to twelve inches in height. They are distributed free to land-owners by the Department of Forestry, and they are to be planted for wood production. They are not suited in size and shape for shade or ornamental planting.

In addition to applications from individuals requests for trees have been received from cities for municipal parks and for watershed reforestation. More applications have come from sportsmen's clubs than ever before, indicating a wider interest among outing organizations in co-operating to protect and preserve the natural resources of the State.

Water companies and coal mining companies are prominent among the applicants. The former are planning to conserve their water supplies, and the mining companies are planting their surface lands to provide a future supply of timber for their operations.

THE TOWER OF BABBLE

By Collum Righter

VACUUMMOBILE ILS.

There is no chance nor destiny—no fate, Can circumvent or hinder or control The firm resolve of a determined soul.

And thus do we fittingly betow a lyric crown 'pon the head of none other than our anticipated friend and eventual well-wisher, Mrs. Robert Nearest Wood, the quiet courage of whose firmly grounded convictions should ever be an example and an inspiration to other town folk who contemplate the inauguration of civic enterprise, but delay, perhaps on account of the fewness of their stones of foundation. We recommend to all such that they remember her "eighteen original volumes" and "jine up" with the Narberth Community Library, where they can absorb some of the justifiable enthusiasm which radiates from the esteemed Librarian and her Deputy Assistants.

At the same time do we wish to broadcast the glad tidings throughout Narberth that Mrs. Wood has positively won those muffins. Yep! She has given us a very plausible reason for the publication of her "Walks In and About Narberth." And while so doing, she has classified as among "loyal citizens of our borough," which was all very fine—but Hot Dog! we hardly expected the latter bouquet. She is a wee bit too embracing—a wee bit. There are some "loyal citizens" with whom we don't particularly care to be classified.

We are sport enough to go further with our wager. We will accompany "them muffins" with a receipt that'll make Mrs. Rorer wish she had never roared, if the delectable portion of femininity who darts Citizen Woods' socks will furnish us with a literal translation of the Gum Arabic that heads the above rhythmic outburst.

And it came to pass in the reign of Metz-Gar that a certain man waxed rich and Nashed. And lo! and behold, the spare carried in the rear thereof was encompassed round about with a cover. Yea, with a cover of blackness like unto the blackness of night. And on it was writ in letters of white, the legend, "ANOTHER NASH." And verily, those who saw it were sore afraid and girded up their loins and journeyed into a far country, even unto N'ar-Berth, which is over against El-Tor, saying to one another, "Come, let us make haste with one accord and buy a license, for the hour cometh and soon is when these thirty-five days will be passed as a tale that is told." And behold, they did and verily did they and their children and their children's children. And lo! it was even so. And when the year nineteen hundred and twenty and three came upon them they knew no fear for anything or any man. And this is the law and the profits. Amen and amen.

Oh, certainly. We enjoyed a most gastronomic Thanksgiving Day. And the thing we are most thankful for is that we "wuzn't born with two stum-micks." We haven't fully gotten over that dinner yet. It seems as though the last mouthful of hot mince pie is still scrapping with a couple of unchewed raw oysters as to whether IT or the cranberry sauce is the most important. Personally, from the way things feel about a foot north of the delta of the Ganges, we are inclined to hand the laurels to the hot mince and let it go at that.

The "fourth-from-the-end line in that poem by M. A. C. last week held a warning which we ought to have heeded. But, gosh-dang it, we didn't. "Turn back before it is too late," read the line. And gee! if we only had, probably we wouldn't be eating mustard-plasters and quaffing beakers of yepson salts now.

"Turn back before it is too late." Oh, wise injunction! Oh, sage advice! Oh, sensible admonition! Tha's all right, but who in the hellobill can "turn back" with a twelve-cylinder Thanksgiving dinner staring 'em in the mug?

Suffering snipes! If there's anybody around who can, let 'em stand up and come forward! The canton crepe monkey wrench'll be awarded 'em without no further comments.

It's funny how the same thing strikes different people in different ways. Take that little story with which we filled last week's Column. One smart guy on the train remarked that he "hoped the words 'The End' that followed it were a prophecy," but he is one of those swivle-jayed yaps anyway, so we should worry. Then again, the silver voiced orator, Colonel Emus, visited us last Sunday afternoon and swore by all the gods that he was going to buy many pounds of Page & Shaw candy and sit on that stone wall at Sixty-third and Overbrook avenue—and wait. It takes more than candy, Colonel. It takes more than candy. But the real prize in the way of comment came from the sweetest thing in Cynwyd. Said the S. T. in C., roughish-like, "Why did you let her get away so quickly?"

Oh, well, we are too old and decrepit for that sort of thing, you know. And then it takes time. And we haven't nearly as much time as we had when we hadn't any time at all.

A GOOD IDEA

"A famous educator says everybody ought to read a little poetry every day."

"I agree with him. If more people would read poetry every day, perhaps there wouldn't be so many trying to write it."

"I wish I had a baby brother to whom in my go-cart, mamma," said small Elsie. "My dolls are always getting broken when it tips over."

WHEN MISTAKES OCCUR

It is unavoidable that some errors will occur in the conduct of our business with consumers. In such cases we would ask you to bear in mind, that the bigger the business, the more the mistakes which are likely to be made. We think, however, when the size of our business is considered, that our percentage of errors is very small. Nevertheless, our aim is to avoid them altogether, and we are always glad to have them brought to our attention when they occur.

REGULATED COOKING

One of the greatest advantages of a gas range for all kinds of cooking is the ease with which the heat can be regulated for every individual purpose. Once accustomed to the proper regulation of the gas range, the woman who uses gas heat for her cooking should never have a poor result.

The new gas ranges which we are displaying are so designed and constructed as to make it very easy to regulate them for the kind of cooking you wish to do and to assure just the right degree of heat until the cooking is completed. You will be pleased with the convenience, cleanliness and economy features of these new ranges.

BUILDING AND LOAN

As it is only twenty-six days until Christmas and everyone is beginning to think of Christmas presents, it is a good time to consider Building and Loan stock as a Christmas present. Can you think of anything more flexible? The payment of $1.25 is the lowest cost of this Christmas present, and you can spend as much more as you desire. Building and Loan Stock as a Christmas present opens endless opportunities, as by taking one share with a payment of $1.00 a month, in about eleven and a half years you will be paid $200, which is purchased for a child can be reinvested or put into a fund for that child's education.

It is amazing the amount of money that will accumulate in Building and Loan Stock by the payment of a few dollars a month. The years pass quickly, and before you realize the fact the stock has matured, and you have $200 for each share.

If eleven and a half years is too long to wait why not take out shares in the Short Term Series by the payment of $2.00 a month which will mature in a little over six years.

There are occasions when it is very desirable to borrow $100 or so for emergencies to tide the family over a short space of time, and Building and Loan Stock creates a fund against which you can borrow at any time up to the withdrawal value, paying six per cent. to your Building and Loan Association and have the same money earning over eight per cent. This loan can be paid off at any time, which of course stops the interest, or you can continue to pay the interest until the stock matures, when it is automatically deducted from the value of the stock and the difference is given to you!

While the Narberth American Legion Building and Loan Association is young it has been very successful, earning last year 8.8%, and steadily increasing in size. It will open its Eighth Series at the "Log Cabin," corner of Narberth and Haverford Avenues, on Tuesday evening, Dec. 5th, from 7 until 9, and its directors will be very glad at that time to answer any questions and to receive subscriptions for stock in either the Short Term Series where you pay $2.00 a month per share, with an entrance fee of fifty cents per share, or in the Long Term Series where you pay $1.00 a month per share with an entrance fee of twenty-five cents per share.

Applications for stock can be obtained from any of the Directors, or by calling on the Secretary, Mr. Harry A. Simpson, whose telephone number is Narberth 636. If you find that it will be impossible for you to get to the meeting, it will only be necessary to fill out the application blank and attach your check covering the number of shares desired, and Mr. Simpson will issue the book and mail it to you after the meeting.

Remember the date, Dec. 5th at the "Log Cabin," from 7 until 9 in the evening, and help the American Legion Building and Loan Association of Narberth to open its Eighth Series with the largest number of subscribers it has ever had.

OUR TOWN

WHO'S IN "WHO'S WHO"?

Six Narberth Residents Are Listed in New Volume Now Available at the Library.

Vol. XII of "Who's Who in America" has just come from the press and a copy has been purchased by the library for public use in the reference department. This new volume contains 3,520 pages, on which are printed 24,278 biographical sketches, of which 2,339 have been added since the previous issue.

The majestic drama of contemporary life in America requires 110,000,000 actors, most of whom are used to fill in the background. Every individual who has a leading part, excluding, of course, the villains, is listed in "Who's Who in America." Each one of these 24,000 individuals is listed there because of personal attainment or official prominence. No one can be admitted at his own request nor can he buy a place for himself. In this connection it is interesting to discover that six residents of Narberth are included. Of course every Narberthian should know and is probably able to enumerate our six nationally prominent fellow townsmen (there are no women in the Narberth list, as yet!), but in order to make sure it would be well to step into the library on the first convenient Friday afternoon and evening and consult page 126.

If local pride prompts one to look farther, he will find that Narberth compares very favorably with the surrounding towns in "Who's Who" listings. Merion has eleven names, Wynnewood, three; Ardmore, seven; and Cynwyd, seven.

Entirely aside from matters of local pride, "Who's Who" is an invaluable book of reference, the cost of which keeps it out of most homes. Every person even in the most casual newspaper reading is continually running across references to more or less prominent individuals in such a way as to arouse a desire to know more about them. "Who's Who" answers all such questions and is now available for the free use of every one in Narberth. This book is one from which the library will derive no financial return, but it is gladly made available because it is the desire, intention and policy of the library to provide for Narberth all the facilities and service which any library is giving anywhere.

Library Gifts and Requests.

The library is glad to acknowledge two very generous gifts this week, one of more than 150 books of fiction and miscellaneous books, from Mrs. J. W. Follin, of Grayling avenue, and a number of recent books, including Frederick O'Brien's "Atolls of the Sun," from Mr. Robert E. Miller, Secretary of the Hamilton Watch Company, of Lancaster, Pa. From him that hath received shall come further requests, and so the library on behalf of the children's department asks if there is any one who will contribute a copy, old or new, of Louis Alcott's "Little Men" and "Eight Little Cousins."

sueded the Allies to continue their support. After the death of Alexander and the reinstatement of Constantine, the Allies became lukewarm. Later, France by giving up to Turkey a portion of Syria over which she had only a mandate antagonized Italy and Great Britain. Greece, weakened but resolute, continued fighting. The Conference last winter was to all intents and purposes a failure.

"After the seizure of Constantinople, the future of Greece looked bright. Suddenly, however, by reason of war weariness, the Greek army collapsed and was no longer able to defend Constantinople. Great Britain, alarmed, called upon her Dominions for their support to resist Turkish domination in the East. But full support was not forthcoming. She now stands alone in her defiance of the Turk."

"In the future," Mrs. Bean warned, "a rehabilitated Russia may add another complication to the situation. Her strength put at the disposal of the Turk would still further complete Turkish domination."

Miss Shand will be the next hostess of the Current Events class at her home at Price and Narberth Avenues on Tuesday, December 6th, at two-thirty.
